COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Course 1: Resumes That Reel in Results – Not all resumes are made equally, and a well-written resume is more likely to get better results. Learn how to critique your current resume or rewrite it. This course is especially of great value for the Wise Woman who is changing careers or for the one who has more than one area of expertise.

Course 2: The Birthing of a Brilliant Bio – Biographical sketches are one of the most underrated pieces of professional communication there is. However, its value should never be underestimated. You may be nominated for an award, recommended for a leadership position, or even asked to present a speech or facilitate a teaching. Your bio is the narrative that will help seal the deal or sink the ship. The last thing you want to do is “throw something together” that is far less representative of the true gem that you are. This course will help prevent you from making such a costly mistake.

Course 3: The Essentials of Marketing and Branding – These two terms are often used interchangeably, but they are different, nevertheless. This course reveals how the two work together and make a huge difference as you seek to identify your brand and make it known to those who could benefit from what you have to offer.

Course 4: Grow Where You’re Planted: Mastering the Art of Reinvention – Life is full of changes. Sometimes they are good, and sometimes they are not so good. Either way, it is in these times that your system of survival will need to be well-defined. This course will help you embrace change so that you can grow where you are planted, ultimately mastering the art of reinvention.

Course 5: Seven Streams of Revenue – Let’s face it. Gone are the days of working a job for 25-30 years, retiring, getting the coveted gold watch (or whatever the company’s signature retirement gift may be), and living happily ever after. In today’s tough economic climate, you must have several streams of revenue in order to thrive financially. In fact, we believe seven is the perfect number. We’ll show you what they are and how to make them work for you.

Course 6: Wise Women Prosper – It’s no secret: women are leaders. As leaders, women are wise and they prosper. This course uncovers tried, tested and true principles of leadership that every woman should embody if she wants to reach the pinnacle of her success or simply enhance the leadership skills she has already adopted.
